NEW WATER STATIONS

New convenient water coolers with ice dispensers have been installed at Willis Case, Overland Park and Kennedy. Make sure you bring your water bottle for your rounds to fill up at these new water stations.

By the end of the year, all Denver Golf Courses will have the new water stations which will replace the old water coolers on the course. Denver Golf decided to replace the on-course coolers to:

1. Conserve water - We won't waste unused water and ice in the coolers.
2. Provide a healthier solution for water to customers - Water stations will insure you have the freshest and cleanest water possible. Water from the new stations will always be filtered and clean. With on course coolers during extremely hot days, ice melts in the coolers and the water can reach a temperature that allows bacteria to grow, in addition to the spigots getting dirty from the environment.
3. Less waste - Reusable water bottles will provide less waste from cups, straws, etc. and will be more environmentally friendly.
4. Cost saving in labor - Did you know it takes over 3,000 hours in labor to fill coolers all summer non-stop? The new water stations will be a better use of labor so our staff can spend more time on maintaining and monitoring the course for better conditions and pace of play for the customer. In addition, it will provide our employees a safer working environment not having to lift the water coolers that weigh 80 lbs. or more.

Typically we use 37 coolers throughout the Denver Golf system. With the cost of using 37 coolers, we could purchase 9 new lithium ion golf carts. The new cooler stations not only help you and the environment, but we can put the savings back into other improvements on the golf course.

Look for the new water coolers at the three courses mentioned and don't forget to bring your reusable water bottle for your round.

City Park Redesign Updates

During major storms, the redesigned City Park Golf Course will temporarily hold and slow floodwaters while protecting the course from damage. The detention area is an essential part of Platte to Park Hill: Stormwater Systems. It will be integrated into an updated course design that will be even more enjoyable for golfers and help protect some of the city's most at-risk neighborhoods from flooding.

Integrating stormwater detention in golf courses is a very common practice. Outside of major storms, the area will remain a dry, fully-functioning golf course.

After considering technical merits and community input, City Park Golf Course was selected for water detention because it will protect significantly more homes and businesses; enhances an existing city asset; reduces the need for private
